You may use material from the pack for your own private study, non-commercial research or instructional and educational purposes only. Education purposes include:

- use in preparation of hard copy teaching materials (but not textbooks, course manuals or other publications intended for commercial sale), presentations, coursework and on whiteboards;
- use as part of community history projects and resources, provided these are of a non-profit making nature and not for commercial gain;
- reproduction on publicly accessible educational and community history websites, provided that these are of a non-profit making nature and not for commercial gain and they contain a link back to the original pack and provided you notify us of the reproduction; and
- reproduction as part of public exhibitions, provided that these are of a non-profit making nature and not for commercial gain and provided you notify us that the material is being exhibited.

Except as otherwise expressly permitted by these Terms of Use or under copyright law, no copying, redistribution, retransmission, publication or commercial exploitation of downloaded material will be permitted without our express permission and/or that of the copyright owner and for which a fee may be charged.

In the event of any permitted exploitation, copying, redistribution or publication of copyright material, you shall ensure that the appropriate copyright notice acknowledging ownership of any copyright material is, to the extent that such ownership is indicated in the pack, reproduced in relation to all uses of such copyright material. You acknowledge that you do not acquire any ownership rights by downloading copyright material. The rights granted to you under these Terms of Use shall terminate immediately, and any permission, general or express, to download or reproduce material from the pack will be withdrawn if, in our opinion, you are in breach of any of these.
